

US President Joe Biden threatens: No gas pipeline if Russia invades Ukraine

WASHINGTON DC: In a flurry of diplomacy across two continents, President Joe Biden met with Germany's new leader Monday and vowed the crucial Nord Stream 2 Russia-to-Germany gas pipeline will be blocked if Russia further invades Ukraine.

Russia's Vladimir Putin retorted that the U.S. and its allies are the only ones talking invasion.

Putin and French President Emmanuel Macron met for more than five hours in Moscow at the same time Biden and German Chancellor Olaf Scholz spoke at the White House in efforts to defuse the crisis before armed conflict breaks out. Russia has massed thousands of troops at the Ukraine border, adding military might almost daily.

The White House has expressed increasing alarm about the prospects of war, and Biden has been looking to solidify support among European allies for economy-jarring sanctions against Russia if it attacks.

If Russia invades, that means tanks and troops crossing the border of Ukraine again, then there will be no longer a Nord Stream 2, Biden said. We will bring an end to it."

That would hurt Russia economically but also cause supply problems for Germany. Construction of the pipeline has been completed, but it is not yet operating.

We are jointly ready, and all of NATO is ready, Biden said, referring to the powerful Western alliance, though Ukraine is not a member. While Biden reiterated with certitude that the pipeline would not move forward, Scholz stressed the need to keep some ambiguity about sanctions in order to press Russia to de-escalate the crisis.

It's necessary for Russia to understand that a lot more could happen than they've perhaps calculated with themselves., Scholz said. The buildup of over 100,000 Russian troops near Ukraine has fueled Western worries of a possible offensive. White House national security adviser Jake Sullivan warned Sunday that Russia could invade Ukraine any day, triggering a conflict that would come at an enormous human cost. AGENCIES

US and Russia clash over use and impact of UN sanctions

Russia also lashed out at unilateral sanctions imposed by the United States, European Union and other countries and groups

UNITED NATIONS: The United States and its allies clashed with Russia and China in the UN Security Council on Monday over the usefulness and impact of UN sanctions, which are currently imposed on countries from North Korea to Yemen and Congo as well as the al-Qaida and Islamic State extremist groups and their affiliates and supporters.

Russia, which holds the council presidency this meeting and chose the topic -- preventing humanitarian and unintended consequences of sanctions -- also lashed out at unilateral sanctions imposed by the United States, European Union and other countries and groups.

UN political chief Rosemary DiCarlo told the council there are 14 UN sanctions regimes: As examples, in Libya, Mali, South Sudan and Yemen they support conflict resolution; in Guinea Bissau they aim to deter unconstitutional changes of government; in Central African Republic, Congo and Somalia they curb the illicit exploitation of natural resources that fund armed groups; in North Korea, they target proliferation activities; and they constrain Islamic State and al-Qaida terrorist threats.

DiCarlo said UN sanctions are no longer the blunt instrument they once were. Since the 1990s, they have undergone changes to minimize possible adverse consequences on civilians and third countries, and the Security Council has included and provided humanitarian exemptions in most sanctions regimes, she said.

Russia's deputy UN ambassador Dmitry Polyansky, who chaired the meeting, said many sanctions regimes interfere with plans for state-building and economic development, pointing to Central African Republic and Sudan and calling the measures on Guinea Bissau anachronistic.

The Security Council needs to take greater heed of what the authorities of states under sanctions think and be more realistic in setting benchmarks to lift them to make sure they don't turn into a mission impossible, he said.

US Ambassador Linda Thomas-Greenfield countered that sanctions are a potent tool that make it harder for terrorists to raise funds via international financial systems, and have slowed development of certain capabilities in North Korea's nuclear and ballistic missile programs.

Sanctions also constrain the resources of those who would spoil peace processes, threaten UN peacekeepers, commit atrocities, and obstruct humanitarian assistance, she said.

Britain's deputy ambassador James Kariyuki said the value of UN sanctions were proven in Angola, Ivory Coast, Liberia and Sierra Leone where they helped end conflict and support the transition to peace and democracy and were then lifted. In the Central African Republic, they've improved the practices of a mining company, he said.

In Somalia, the arms embargo has enabled the seizure of thousands of ammunition rounds, anti-tank guided missiles, and sniper-fire rifles reportedly intended for al-Shabab, the al-Qaida-linked extremist group.

Russia's Polyansky took special aim at sanctions imposed outside the UN by countries or groups, which he said remain a serious impediment for full-fledged functioning of humanitarian exemptions, citing problems with contractors,

UN political chief Rosemary DiCarlo said UN sanctions are no longer the blunt instrument they once were carriers, cargo insurance and bank transactions.

He also said Russia proceeds from the understanding that only UN sanctions are legitimate, and that broader use of unilateral sanctions undermines the norms and institutes of the international law.

Polyansky claimed secondary sanctions of major Western powers create a 'toxic vibe' around Pyongyang" that discourages cooperation even in areas not touched by international restrictions.

He also cited what he called the war of sanctions against Russia's ally Syria, which has very negatively affected its economy, as well as US sanctions against Cuba and Venezuela.

China's UN Ambassador Zhang Jun called unilateral sanctions extremely harmful and expressed concern that a few countries have been flinging them about left, right and center, in a frenzy so much so that they seem to be addicted to them. He said these measures have thrown a spanner in the works of economic and social development and scientific and technological progress of the targeted countries. AGENCIES

Omicron: China locks down southern city

BEIJING: China has ordered inhabitants of the southern city of Baise to stay home and suspended transportation links amid a surge in COVID-19 cases at least partly linked to the Omicron variant.

Classes have been suspended, non-essential businesses closed and mass testing of residents ordered. Restaurants are only permitted to serve take-out. Traffic lights have been switched to red only to remind drivers to stay home.

As of Tuesday, 135 cases had been reported in the city at least two of them found to be Omicron, health authorities said.

The city has become the latest to be placed under lockdown in keeping with China's zero-tolerance approach to the pandemic.

The policy requires strict measures be applied even when only a small number of cases have been found. A major concern is preventing outbreaks during the ongoing Beijing Winter Olympic Games.

No new cases were reported in the Chinese capital on Tuesday. More than 30 athletes at the Beijing Olympics are in isolation facilities after testing positive for the Coronavirus, organisers said Tuesday. The average stay in isolation is seven days. AGENCIES
